Leadership

Leadership You Can Trust

ATA President and CEO Bill Graves knows the issues that your business faces from first hand experience. He grew up in trucking.

It's in his blood. His father and grandfather founded Graves Truck Line in 1935 after losing their farm in the Great Depression and steadily grew it into one of the largest regional motor carriers in the nation. Bill learned every aspect of the family business from loading and unloading to front-office management. Bill Graves, as former governor of Kansas, is a trusted leader, with a track record of putting trucking's interests first.

Resources

One Call and You Get What You Need

As a member of ATA, you'll have direct access to ATA staff to ask questions, seek advice, or gather insights or facts. We'll provide you with the latest information regarding:

- Environmental regulations
- OSHA rules
- Safety standards
- State licensing
- Hazardous materials transport issues
- Government traffic
- Claims and loss prevention
- Taxes and finances

ATA's industry expertise runs deep. You can call anytime to ask questions and get answers. Our experts on regulatory policy, economists, statisticians, accountants, environmental experts, safety and maintenance engineers, and communications specialists are available at any time to answer your specific questions.

In addition, ATA will regularly keep you informed of the issues. As a member, you will receive:

- Truckline, our twice-a-week email/fax of industry updates
- Transport Topics, a weekly industry news publication that provides the most authoritative and timely news regarding Class 8 trucking. Considered "The national newspaper of trucking and freight transportation"
- The Federal Update, A bi-weekly electronic report on the current issues before Congress, the White House, the federal regulatory agencies and the courts. This essential update tells you what the issues are and why they matter to ATA members
- Fuelline, a weekly email providing national and regional diesel fuel prices and forecast
- Trucking Economic Review, our quarterly email to update members on economic issues impacting the trucking industry
- Emergency legislative and regulatory alerts and special bulletins

Advocacy

Advancing Trucking's Interests

ATA represents your company's interests in Washington, fighting unfair taxes, eliminating burdensome regulations, and creating a healthy business environment. We are working to ensure that politicians and regulators understand your business and enact laws that are good for trucking.

ATA's current agenda includes:

- Tax and economic issues that affect your company's bottom line
- Promoting the safe and efficient movement of hazardous materials
- Effectively managing safety, alertness and performance
- Controlling fuel costs
- National security
- Tolling on existing highways
- Civil justice reform
- Promoting sound environmental policies that work for the environment and business

Involvement

Let Your Voice be Heard

As a member of the ATA, you will have many opportunities to confront issues, voice concern and get action.

Our members set ATA's position on key industry issues. Through their direction and involvement, ATA makes a difference in Washington.

You can join ATA's policy committees and influence how ATA will address issues such as: how many hours your drivers are on the road, how much you pay in highway taxes, what kind of fuel you put in your trucks and more!
